India: Increasing Cries Of "Gimme"

WASHINGTON — I will bet $3 to 1 that if President Johnson screwed his diplomatic courage to the sticking point and told India to get lost, he would become an overnight hero to plain Americans from Bangor, Me., to Long Beach, Calif.

To put it specifically, I believe Johnson would win far more votes than he lost if he informed Mrs. Gandhi and her clan, paranoiac, political myrmidons that herculean India would have to get their foreign aid elsewhere, perhaps from Tanzania. Surely, the long-suffering sucker otherwise known as the U.S. taxpayer must be fed up with wet-nursing a government that opposes American foreign policy every inch of the way, and yet continues to fill the air with cries of "Gimme!"

India's latest rebuff to the land that feeds her received slight attention, perhaps because her ingratitude is such old hat. She cast her vote with Communist Poland to refuse to let the International Control Commission, for which she provides the chairman, do a better policing job of Cambodia's border with South Vietnam.

In so doing, India ignored the fact that both Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia, surely no tool of Wall Street, and the South Vietnamese had urged the commission to step up its investigations. With the third member of the commission, Canada, outvoted, the commission instead decided it would respond only to specific Cambodian complaints of intrusion.

Lest some naive soul think

India was acting from purity of heart, Indian officials have admitted the action was a "political" one. In short, India was doing the bidding of both the Soviet Union and of Yugoslavia, whose dictator Tito recently spent a few days in one of those long-winded conversations — the Red countries — with the plain

Mrs. Gandhi, Moscow, of course, had let it be known early that

Viet Cong incursions into Cambod and therefore was wrong.

U.S. Ambassador to India

Chester Bowles had argued that intensive patrolling would dis courage such incursions by the

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese and thus automatically elimi nated the justification for Amer ican pursuit. But India made it plain it did not want to know about any border violations. Her view, according to official spokesmen, is that the best way to prevent war is to draw at tenion away from and not to ward the border.

In street English, of course, this means that if you don't notice those Viet Cong guerillas they'll go away. This is not quite the case. India assumed when the Communist

Chinese were sending their troops across the Sino-Indian border. Indeed, at that time In dia was using Sihanouk's Kingdom

as a sanctuary.

Home Agent Is Named

GOODING — A new home economics extension agent for Gooding County has been appointed by the University of Idaho in cooperation with Gooding County. Sandy Kasei, a recent graduate of Idaho State University, replaces Mrs. Ruth Shano, now of Chehalis, Wash.

Miss Kasei is a native Idahoan and finds Gooding County "as wonderful a place to live and work" as her home community near Nampa. Growing up on a dairy farm, plus 10 years of 4-H experience have given her a background and appreciation of extension work.

She is a member of the First Christian Church. Some of her college activities included membership in Spur, Child Zion Club, and the American Home Economics Association. She enjoys skiing, riding and "anything ever remotely connected with the outdoors" or home economics."

Miss Kasei invites anyone interested in information from the extension office, as well as 4-H youth and leaders, to phone or stop at the county agent's office in the courthouse.

Saigon Repair Program Is In Danger

By BARRY KRAMER

SAIGON (AP) — The Saigon government's program to repair the vast damage wreaked by the Viet Cong's lunar new year offensive appeared in danger today. Informed sources reported Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang had resigned from the National Recovery Committee named to administer the program.

Ky was chairman of the committee and Thang was its chief of staff. The latter is the energetic former boss of the nation's pacification program; U.S. officials consider him one of the best men in the government.

Ky's resignation, reported by a member of Premier Nguyen Van Loc's Cabinet, was considered an indication of the inability of Ky and President Nguyen Van Thieu to work together, even under the pressure put on the government by the intensifying Communist attacks since the end of January.

Ky reportedly told the committee at a meeting today he was resigning because he was tired of reports saying he was planning to utilize the committee's powers to take over the government from Thieu.

Thieu reportedly told Ky he was satisfied with the work he had done and did not care about the reports. But American sources close to the committee reported Ky was adamant and probably would not attend any more meetings of the group.

Former Richfield Resident Dies

RICHFIELD — The death of Gus Knodle, former Richfield owner of the Tri-State Lumber Yard, has been learned here.

Mr. Knodle, in his late 70's, died Thursday at Phillips, S. D., and funeral rites were held Monday at Quinn.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Gladys Smith, and eight grandchildren. Cottonwood, S. D. His wife, Lois, died in January, 1966.

He was a 30-year resident of Richfield. Richfield relatives include two nephews, Forrest Armstrong, and L. T. Sanders.

TWIN FALLS BOY Scout Richard Shobe, a representative from the Snake River Area Boy Scout Council, met with Idaho Gov. Don Samuelson last week to explain current scouting programs. Young Shobe was one of eight Idaho scouts to visit with the governor and tour the state capital. Annually, scouts meet with the governor to talk about scouting goals and programs within the state.

Plane Crash Victims Are Identified

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Three victims of Sunday's afternoon plane crash in far southern Utah have tentatively been identified as Californiaans.

San Juan County Sheriff Ross Musselman said late Monday that badly burned bodies of the three had been brought out of desolate, rugged terrain near the Arizona border.

He said a light aircraft piloted by a man believed to be a Lee Crooks, age unknown, of San Bernardino went down shortly after attempting a take-off from a remote landing strip constructed during the uranium boom of the 1950s.

Musselman said papers found at the scene indicated the two passengers were a Rich Townsend, North Hollywood, and Julie Cannon, 22, an employee of the Columbia Broadcasting System in Los Angeles. Townsend's age was not available.

Musselman said positive identification would be impossible until dental records of the three were forwarded to Utah authorities.

The young woman recently moved from Provo, Utah, to Los Angeles, her father, Angus Cannon, said.

Nominees For Oscars Selected

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," a film about an interracial romance, tied with "Bonnie and Clyde," a story of crime, in the 1960s, with 10 nominations each for the 40th Academy Awards.

A child's fantasy tale, "Doctor Dolittle," ranked next with nine. The nominees, announced Monday, included the late Spencer Tracy.

"Doctor Dolittle," "Bonnie and Clyde," "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," "The Graduate" and "In the Heat of the Night" were named contenders for the best picture award.

Tracy was nominated for the ninth time as best actor for his performance in "Coming to Dinner," Warren Beatty for his role as "Clyde" — Dustin Hoffman in "The Graduate," Paul Newman as "Cool Hand Luke" and Rod Steiger for "In the Heat of the Night."

Tracy's nomination was a record for an actor.

His roles in "Captains Courageous" in 1937 and "Boys Town" in 1938 brought him Academy Awards. Only James Dean has been nominated posthumously before.

No Oscar for best actor or actress has ever been awarded posthumously and none awarded to an actor three times.

Nominees for best actress were Dame Edith Evans for her portrayal of a lonely old woman in "The Whippersnapper." Audrey Hepburn for her role in "Waltz Until Dark," and Faye Dunaway, Anne Bancroft and Katherine Hepburn for roles in "Bonnie and Clyde," "The Graduate" and "Coming to Dinner," respectively.

Sidney Poitier, who starred in two of the films named for best picture, failed to gain a best actor nomination.

The Negro star won the Oscar for his role in "Lilies of the Field" in 1963.

The awards will be handed out at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium April 8.

Nixon Often Uses Football Metaphor To Talk Politics

By BELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is an avid football fan and in talking politics he often uses football metaphor.

Example — "The spotter high in the stands can see things on the field that the players can't see. That's how I regard my ears out of office. I've had time to observe, read and think and as a result, I've spotted things we can do about America's problems."

Nixon is campaigning in New Hampshire and Wisconsin this week, intent on winning — and winning big — in the presidential primaries of those states on March 12 and April 2, respectively.

To continue his own metaphor, Nixon has become a political Bart Starr, the polished pro, quarterbacking a young, fast-thinking team. He mixes his plays for maximum gains — for

MAN ARRAIGNED

POCATELLO (AP) — A 25-year-old Pocatello man accused of holding patrons of a bar at gunpoint for more than an hour Saturday night was arraigned on a charge of robbery Monday.

Allen Jerry Myers, 24, West Center, was formally charged in the court of Justice of the Peace Wayne Loveless. Myers indicated he wants a preliminary hearing. He was returned to the Bannock County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Police said Myers took about $10 from customers in Monga's, 1802 North Main. The bar patrons were finally able to subdue their captor and turn him over to police.

EARN SCHOLARSHIPS

BOISE (AP) — Boise Cascade Corp. employees earned more than $50,000 in scholarships for their children by compiling records in safety, it was announced Monday.

Mark Strude, corporate safety administrator, said the scholarship program, which began in 1964, will go to 42 sons and daughters of Boise Cascade employees.

Topping the safety achievement were employees of a sawmill in Emmett, who won five scholarships totalling $6,500. Strude said. She worked at a paper mill in St. Helens, Ore., won $8,000 in scholarships.

ARSON SUSPECTED

BLACKFOOT (AP) — Arson was suspected in a $100,000 fire which burned the Blackfoot Livestock Commission building to the ground early Monday.

Firemen were called at 5:20 a.m. to the scene at Rich Lane, where the fire had apparently started at a catwalk at the rear of the building. Fire Chief John Schwarz said auction arena, offices and cafeteria were destroyed with all equipment. There were no animals there.

Evidence of arson is being checked by Deputy Sheriff Wernell Adams and Larry Hultz, in cooperation with Blackfoot Police Chief Homer Evans, and Officer Harry Nichols. Castle were made of footprints at the scene, and empty gasoline cans were found.

REPRESENTATIVES TOLD

BOISE (AP) — Thru Idaho Republicans were listed Monday as representatives to the Feb. 23-24 Washington, D. C., meeting of the party's national committee.

Idaho Republican Chairman John O. McMurray, national committeeman Harley Markham and national committeewoman Gwen Barnett were named to represent Idaho.

Mrs. Barnett will be a guest speaker Feb. 26 at the national Young Republican leadership training school in Washington, the state central committee announced.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS

BOISE (AP) — Treasure Valley Chamber of Commerce members heard Gov. Don W. Samuelson tell them Monday that "it is a matter of pride with me that definite progress has been made in many departments of state government in the past 14 months."

Businessmen from eleven southwestern Idaho counties and Malheur County, Ore., heard Samuelson deliver his prepared remarks at the evening meeting.

The governor said all problems in state government would not be solved, but his administration would meet them "head-on" and solve all it possibly could.

Johnson Rejects Advice Of Drug Official

By JACK MILLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources say that in seeking permission for possession of the hallucinogenic drug LSD, President Johnson rejected the advice of his top drug official.

The source also said Monday the administration blocked an appearance by Dr. James L. Goddard, food and drug administrator, before a House Select congressional hearing into bills relating to control of LSD.

They said it was felt Goddard shouldn't testify because his differences with Johnson would be exposed.

"It's an awkward position, but there hasn't been any muzzling," said Theodore C. Korn, assistant FDA commissioner. "The commissioner isn't the kind of guy you can muzzle anyway."

Goddard was to have been the lead-off witness at Monday's scheduled hearings by the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee. The hearing was postponed and no new date was set.

The subcommittee chairman, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., was reported angered by what sources said was a decision by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare not to have Goddard appear.

HEW officials said their decision was in line with the known wishes of President Johnson.

Goddard has testified before Congress previously that he did not favor making possession of LSD illegal. Goddard said LSD "hasn't changed his mind."

President Johnson proposed in his recent crime message to Congress that possession of LSD, which now carries no penalty, be made a misdemeanor.

An administration source said there's "no one in the department who recommended that."

The source said HEW policy makers agree that penalties should be "severe" for manufacture, sale or distribution of LSD but that "we shouldn't make criminals out of knuckleheaded kids who try the stuff."

A team of government scientists reported today that a new study discloses LSD often causes opposite moods to occur at practically the same time in a given user. For example, they related, a user can feel tense yet calm, or serious—but silly, within the same few moments.

Dr. Martin M. Katz, a psychiatrist of the National Institute of Mental Health, and two colleagues, told of the findings in a report in the Journal of Abnormal Psychology.

Rep. William L. Springer of Illinois, ranking Republican on the House Commerce Committee, said meanwhile that the proposal to make possession of LSD punishable by a maximum one-year jail sentence is inadequate.

A Commerce subcommittee opened hearings Monday on the administration drug control proposals.

2 Hurt In Rupert Crash

RUPERT — Two Magic Valley residents were injured Sunday afternoon in a two-car collision southwest of Rupert.

Investigating Minidoka County sheriff's officers said Mrs. Clarence (Jennie) Rose, 63, Burley, was taken to the Minidoka Memorial Hospital where she was treated for her injuries and released.

Pamela S. Davis, 14, Rupert, driver of the other vehicle, received minor bruises and was treated by a physician.

Officers said the accident occurred when Clarence Rose, 60, Burley, driver of the first vehicle, apparently pulled into the path of the Davis auto after stopping at a stop sign.

Mr. Rose was cited for failure to yield the right of way. Damage to Miss Davis' 1965 Dodge was estimated at $800 and to Rose's 1963 Chevrolet at $500.

Mrs. Ted Eastman watches her husband feed fish at the couple's hatchery near Buhl. Fish farming is big business near Hagerman, but disease and the spread of disease among fish is a common problem all face. To aid in checking disease in hatcheries, the Hagerman Chamber proposes that a diagnostic testing facility be located in the area. The matter is still being considered in Washington, D. C., and if approved will provide a substantial economic boost.

It's Actually Part Of Hagerman Fish Story

By FRED DODDS
Times-News Staff Writer
Years ago before the dawn of man, but after the mountains were formed and long after the earth had cooled, a geological mystery was formed in South Idaho. The mystery lasts to this day. In fact, businessmen have capitalized on it.

The mystery is the water that gushes from the Snake River Canyon between Hagerman and Hansen.

The canyon is lined with the springs of clear, fresh water—all of it a constant 54 degrees. Idaho Power uses the water and so do the men who raise fish for a living.

It is the raising of fish that made this article possible, but the story is much more than that.

The story is one of the Hagerman Chamber of Commerce. A group of interested businessmen and citizens. A group hoping to get a diagnostic laboratory at the National Fish Hatchery near Hagerman.

The laboratory will, at least, set a guideline to protect fish farmers from deadly diseases that could wipe out a whole crop of fish. It will bring in needed income to the Hagerman area. It is an important area.

But Hagerman does not have it yet, and may never get it. The Chamber of Commerce feels it deserves the laboratory. Between Hagerman and Hansen, more fish are raised than anywhere else in the world.

The water is perfect. This takes us back to the age old question: Where does the water come from?

The desert! In south Idaho is a huge bowl, ringed by mountains on all sides and cut in the middle by the Snake River Canyon.

Theory has it that the water comes from underneath this huge bowl. It is believed by geologists that under the ground there is sand and lava rock going many miles into the earth. An underground lake, except the lake is made of this sand and lava rock.

Water from many lakes, streams and rivers, along with irrigation water and the water caused from spring runoff in the mountains—that ring the bowl, is the source of the 1,000 springs water near Hagerman and on upriver to Hansen.

Water for instance will drain off the Teton Mountains and flow into the desert. Here, it filters down into the ground, maybe for several miles. Gradually the water flows southward. During its long trip it is filtered and cooled.

It may take three or five years for the water to reach the spring near Hagerman.

When it does, it goes out of the north canyon wall through a natural tube formed through the ages.

Water coming out of the south side of the canyon wall is just part of the filter system. When the Snake River Canyon was formed, it cut the filter in half but left the natural drainage tubes in the canyon wall.

Therefore the water from this underground filter flows to the lowest point, or the Snake River Canyon. There, the water rushes into the river or into drainage ditches placed by man.

The source of this water has to be from many places. No one river could furnish the amount of water that daily pours from the tubes in the canyon's walls.

Billions of gallons a year.

Seeing this source of water going to waste, the Idaho Power Co. sought to harness the power. It bought the water rights. The water is given to those who want to use it, and the men who raise fish for a living can put the water to good use.

The water, in turn, can be used again for irrigation, and after its use by the fish farmers, it is even better for growing crops because it contains organic waste from the fish.

Fish are big business from Hagerman to Hansen. There is one national hatchery, three state hatcheries, one supported by Idaho Power and many, many privately owned fish hatcheries.

The Hagerman Chamber of Commerce, headed by president Ralph Sullivan, feels there is a great potential in the fish raising business.

"It has expanded in the past years with the advent of frozen foods and fast transportation of live fish," he said.

Disease is a problem.

The Hagerman Valley is the center of the nation's trout business. Last year nearly 4,84 million pounds of trout were raised in the area. About 4,02 million pounds of this was privately raised, and the rest came from the national or state hatcheries.

Increases in the business are being seen every day, and great strides are predicted within the next few years.

But to protect this investment, to protect the trout, the fish farmers need to guard against disease.

James Warren, a biologist at the National Fish Hatchery, helps. He is a full time job, attempting to insure the farmers that his crop of fish will be safe—his investment insured against disease.

But the fish business is 97 years behind other animal industries simply because there are no laws or rules to protect the fish farmer from the spread of disease.

A national group of the American Fisheries Society has recommended that regulations be drawn up to protect the fish grower from disease. They also recommend there be disease diagnostic centers so that fish and eggs can be inspected to make sure the farmer won't get a disease in his hatchery.

Two diagnostic centers have been proposed by the National Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. One is at Leetown, W. Va., and the other at Springville, Utah.

Mr. Sullivan and the Hagerman Chamber feel it would not be right to build the diagnostic centers in the states mentioned in the area. About 4,02 million pounds of this was privately raised, and the rest came from the national or state hatcheries.

A national group of the American Fisheries Society has recommended that regulations be drawn up to protect the fish grower from disease. They also recommend there be disease diagnostic centers so that fish and eggs can be inspected to make sure the farmer won't get a disease in his hatchery.

Two diagnostic centers have been proposed by the National Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. One is at Leetown, W. Va., and the other at Springville, Utah.

Mr. Sullivan and the Hagerman Chamber feel it would not be right to build the diagnostic centers in the states mentioned in the area. About 4,02 million pounds of this was privately raised, and the rest came from the national or state hatcheries.

Increases in the business are being seen every day, and great strides are predicted within the next few years.

But to protect this investment, to protect the trout, the fish farmers need to guard against disease.

James Warren, a biologist at the National Fish Hatchery, helps. He is a full time job, attempting to insure the farmers that his crop of fish will be safe—his investment insured against disease.

Owners Of School Speculate

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Two university instructors are trying to figure out what to do with a 24-room school, complete with library and gymnasium, which they bought unintentionally for $3,651.

"We aren't going to turn those children out into the street," said Roy Stumpf, who along with Bob Goemann inadvertently purchased the estimated $750,000 two-story school.

"It's going to be a real challenge deciding what to do with the school," Stumpf said, with tongue in cheek.

Last summer, the two instructors at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay entered a sealed bid for Beloit School, one of two abandoned one-room school buildings offered for sale by the Green Bay Board of Education.

"We put a bid in on it for speculation," Stumpf explained. "The land might be worth something some day."

"But there seemed to be something wrong with the deed, so I asked the city clerk. He assured me it was all right, so we dropped it there."

Stumpf and Goemann found out Friday they owned Allouez School, a few blocks away.

"The city attorney called me," Stumpf said. "How he found out about it, I don't know. He asked for a swp. I still didn't know what property we owned, so I asked him and he was honest enough to tell me."

"As I left the office," Stumpf added, "I told him he could inform the school board they could continue using it. He didn't think that was very funny."

"I asked how the mistake was made. If they know, they're not telling," he said.

Stumpf still doesn't know exactly what he is owner of.

"I've never been inside," he said. "We drove by the building Saturday, and I pointed out to my children that that was our school. They were quite impressed because a lot of their friends attend school there. It's pretty close to where we live. We talked to the junior and I assured him he had a job as long as he wanted it."

MEMBERS OF THE "SYNDICATES" band which won over seven other groups in Twin Falls Battle of the Bands competition last weekend surround the large trophy they garnered for their efforts. Left to right, from top, are Bill Braun, Del Rupert Jr., Mike Braun and Gary Braun, all Twin Falls, and at bottom, Dennis Tubbs, Jerome. The five young men also netted $75 in prize money. They will be competing at district competition in April. The contest was sponsored by the local Jaycees.

Two "blow" hunters similar to those used for fishing have been placed on ice-covered Adams Pond, where the town gets its water. A man inside moves the shanty toward a roosting flock of gulls and fires a shotgun through an opening. One blast and the flock flies off and usually doesn't return until the next day.

Sorority Meet
Is Scheduled

GLENN'S FERRY—Miss Povey carried a shower arrangement of Tallowian roses and ivy. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Attending their sister were June Povey, Seattle, maid of honor, and Cherryl Povey, College of Idaho student, brides maid.

Robert Stewart was best man and William Pederson, cousin of the bride, was usher.

Mrs. C. E. Arndt was organist.

Yellow chrysanthemums, tall white tapers and greens ornamented the altar.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor.

The bride's table was covered with an embroidered linen and lace cloth, a gift from the bride to her mother while she was in the Philippines.

The three-tiered wedding cake was made by Mrs. Robert McKercher. It was decorated in white and surrounded with yellow pompons, the bride's chosen accent.

The bride's two aunts, Mrs. John Cobb and Mrs. Christ Pederson, cut and served the cake and poured coffee. Mrs. William Pederson poured punch.

Harry Povey, Twin Falls, uncle of the bride, and Mrs. K. Lamm, Jerome, were out-of-town guests.

The Mentor Club will have its annual men's party at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the Art Wyke residence. This is a potluck party and all those attending are asked to bring their own table service.

KING HILL — "The Backward Altar" and "Hazards of Missionaries" were the program and lesson presented by Mrs. Martin Woodward when the United Presbyterian Women met recently at the home of Mrs. C. E. Spence.

Mrs. Karl Carnahan, president announced the "Spring Presbyterian will be held April 5 at Parma and plans were discussed for this meeting. She asked all members to plan to attend. Mrs. Carnahan reminded members to save the coupons to buy additional silverware to be used at the annual fair dinner booth. In August, Mrs. Woodward told the members that a cement floor will be added to the dinner booth this year on the cooking side of the booth.

Mrs. Nathan Miller read a letter from the Presbyterian Nursing Home, Ontario, Ore., stating need for pads 40 by 46 for their patients. The Society has sent newspaper pads in the past but will furnish the other pads for the home as was requested.

Members discussed the Annual May Fellowship Day. Mrs. Marle Lawson, ecumenical and national secretary, read a letter from the National Council of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. She told of her life work in Germany.

Mrs. Arthur Greer presented the Lenten culin program, "Woman, The Homemaker."

RON ADAMS who presented a portion of the program for the Twin Falls Music Club White Breakfast explains his techniques to Mrs. Marshall LeBaron, a past local and state president. Ron's portion of the program featured his prowess on the field drum. He performed a medley of three traditional solos plus an original solo that he composed. The College of Southern Idaho Music Department, under the direction of Denis Poole, presented a program of American Music. The White Breakfast is an annual event sponsored by the Twin Falls Music Club, an affiliate of the National Federation of Music Clubs, and was held this year at the local YWCA.

American Music Program
Given By CSI Students

The College of Southern Idaho Music Department, under the direction of Denis Poole, presented a varied and interesting program of American music at the Twin Falls Music Club White Breakfast held recently at the YWCA.

The central theme of the program was "Variety in Music of Our Country — Today and Yesterday." The Twin Falls Music Club is affiliated with the National Federation of Music Clubs.

The CSI Choir sang seven selections of American tunes of a patriotic, religious and folksong character. Evelyn Boyer, soprano, sang three turns-of-the-century, moralistic, "tear-jerkers" accompanied by Nancy Davis on the piano.

To contrast, Miss Boyer's tunes of yesteryear, Velma Guy, soprano, sang three selections of current Broadway fame. Also, to feature the popular music of today, a group of nine instrumentalists from the CSI Band performed four tunes as featured by Herb Alpert's "Tijuana Brass."

Nancy Davis and Larry Sasse played two duets, one piano, four hands. One was a tune based on an early American dance melody, and the other was a contrasting contemporary tune that proved to be quite different. Larry Sasse also performed, as a piano solo, an unusual polonaise by MacDowell, the nineteenth century New England composer.

Lynne Toler, piano, and Ron Adams, drums, teamed up for a medley of three past and current popular tunes in a jazz idiom.

Perhaps the most unusual portion of the program was a display by Ron Adams of his prowess on the field drum. Ron, who also displays considerable skill on the hardboards as forward on the CSI basketball squad, is a member of the Na-

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: The day my husband said, "Get Honey, I just don't know what to do about getting you anything for Valentine's Day because I don't have enough money to buy my mother anything." "Well, don't worry about buying your mother anything except maybe a card, as Valentine's Day is for wives and sweethearts."

He got mad and said that wasn't true. It was for mothers and anyone else you loved.

I tried to explain that if he wanted to buy his mother something for Valentine's Day, it was perfectly all right, but since he had a money problem, he shouldn't feel guilty about buying me a gift, and giving his mother a card. Am I wrong? Please settle this. In your own words. Who comes first on Valentine's Day, the wife or the mother?

DEAR WIFE: St. Valentine's Day is primarily for one's romantic interests. I can't help you with the argument, but if mother comes to your husband's mind on Valentine's Day, you'll never win the battle.

DEAR ABBY: My complaint is about a school dentist who, while checking children's teeth in the classroom, made an issue of the color of my daughter's teeth. In fact, he made on "example" of her and told her right in front of everyone that her teeth wouldn't be so "yellow" if she did a better job of brushing them.

Abby, she was so hurt. She brushes her teeth religiously twice a day and has gone to our dentist every six months for a cleaning and check-up since she was four. The reason her teeth aren't as white as some is because of hereditary factors (mine are yellowish, too), but they are very well-cared for. Now my daughter hates to open her mouth. I am furious with that dentist. Thanks for letting me unload. I feel better.

W. V.

DEAR W. V.: Someone ought to tell that dentist to pay more attention to his own mouth. And to keep his foot out of it.

DEAR ABBY: That woman signed "irritated" who criticized her mother-in-law for cleaning her house every time she came over to baby-sit sure burned me up. To "irritated" I have this to say:

You know that whatever the old lady did, you wouldn't like. And by the way, how much did you pay your mother-in-law for sitting? And do you ever call her unless you want her for something?

You should be grateful to have a mature and responsible person who truly loves your children to be with them when you aren't there.

My daughter had a teen-aged sitter on New Year's eve who threw a party for her friends. They cleaned out the refrigerator, brought in beer, and even got the kids out of bed so the teen-age couples could take turns using it!

Maybe it "irritated" had a little like that she would count her blessings and stop her picky fault finding. My experience has been that a mother-in-law can't do anything right, no matter how hard she tries.

Red Troops
Overrun Laotian Post

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Communist troops have overrun a Laotian Army outpost 50 miles northeast of Vientiane, the government said.

A government spokesman said about three battalions of Communist troops took the government outpost, which was about 12 miles from the town of Pakxane, on the Mekong River.

The position fell early Sunday morning after an all-night battle.

The spokesman did not give the size of the government force or the number of casualties.

The announcement came just as the International Control Commission for Laos was preparing to leave Wednesday for the southern town of Savavane, where the government claims a large force of North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao are preparing a major attack.

It was still doubtful today if the Polish commissioner would accompany the commission members from Canada and India even though the Laotian prime minister Prince Souvanna Phoumi asked the ICC to investigate the "grave" situation in Savavane.

Bobby Baker Indicted On Liquor Count

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — Bobby Baker has been indicted by the Worcester County grand jury on charges of liquor law violations.

The Valentine Day indictment against Baker, owner of the Carousel Motel in Ocean City and former secretary to U.S. Senate Democrats, was made public Monday by Calvin Hall, county sheriff.

In addition to Baker, the indictments were against Baker's wife Dorothy, and Robert S. Bounds, a co-applicant for the Carousel liquor license.

Police Chief V. Jack Phillips said the charges stemmed from a raid on the Carousel on New Year's Eve by his department, as well as sheriff's deputies.

Phillips said liquor was being sold after hours and all evidence was confiscated.

Meany Has Plan To Cut
U. S. Strikes

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says voluntary arbitration by "impartial" outsiders might be the answer to the nation's rising rash of strikes by public workers ranging from garbage men to teachers.

State laws forbidding strikes, under which some union leaders have gone to jail, aren't the answer, said the chief of the 14-million member labor federation.

"I think there is a basic right of an individual to quit his job if he doesn't like the conditions under which he works and I don't think he should lose that right because he happens to be a civil service worker," Meany told newsmen Monday.

"On the other hand, there is a basic right of the general public to expect service from these workers," Meany said.

"I think it might be that you could set up some sort of a system of voluntary arbitration by which the unions would agree that their conditions would be set up, no by some policeman holding a public office, but by some system of impartial people," Meany said.

Union organizing of public workers has been one of the most rapid areas of the labor movement's growth in recent years and has been marked by strikes of policemen, firemen, teachers, welfare workers, paraprofessionals, and many others.

RISK POINTED OUT
MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Britain's top space watcher says there is a growing risk that debris from perhaps useful satellites could be mistaken for hostile rockets and lead to "international disaster."

News Of Record

MINIDOKA COUNTY Police Blotter

A 1967 Chevrolet driven by Thelma Williams, 42, Rupert, was slightly damaged Friday when Mrs. Williams was backing from the curb and collided with a 1966 Oldsmobile driven by Lois Hiltnerbrand, 43, also Rupert. Mrs. Hiltnerbrand was turning left when the accident occurred. Damage to the Oldsmobile was set at $150, with only $10 to the Chevrolet. The accident occurred on 8th Street in Rupert. No citations were issued.

Steve Terry, 17, Paul, was cited for improper parking Saturday after the 1967 Ford he was driving backed from an alley between 6th and 7th Streets in Rupert and struck a 1964 Ford belonging to Chester Frelson, 52, also Rupert. No damage was noted to the Terry vehicle, but damage to Frelson's auto was not at $75.

Democrats Backing McCarthy Work To Deal LBJ Defeat In Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Rebelling Democrats, including Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, for president are working to deal a pro-Humphrey defeat to Johnson an embarrassing political defeat on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey began his political career as mayor of this city. McCarthy calls neighbors in St. Paul home, which frankly admit they're worried.

"This does not mean we can't take Minneapolis," said Richard Moe, state finance director of the Democratic Farmer-Labor party. "It will be fairly close election."

The vice president, said a pro-Humphrey leader, is "definitely concerned, for he considers Minneapolis to be his home base." Humphrey began his political career as mayor of this city. McCarthy calls neighbors in St. Paul home, which frankly admit they're worried.

The confrontation will come March 5 at party precinct caucuses—one week before McCarthy and the Johnson-Humphrey forces clash in the New Hampshire primary. "It promises to do so. In the next party officials fear the meetings will be packed with voters attracted by McCarthy's opposition to the Vietnam war."

In Minnesota, the precinct caucuses are the grass-roots starting point for selection of national convention delegates. From the precincts, delegates are sent to ward conventions, which choose delegates to the district and state conventions, which in turn name the national delegates.

Because precinct caucuses are open to anyone who voted Democratic in the last election, or promises to do so. In the next party officials fear the meetings will be packed with voters attracted by McCarthy's opposition to the Vietnam war.

Many of these are likely to be college-age voters and that further complicates the problem. One party official pointed out that Humphrey had been unable to devote much attention to the party since he became vice president.

"There are a lot of young people who have come into the party since he became vice president."

Why, who doesn't even know Hubert Humphrey," he said.

National Committeewoman Geri Joseph predicted in an interview that McCarthy will get no more than 5 of the state's 62 delegates. John Wright, associate professor of the University of Minnesota and vice chairman of the Minnesota Concerned Democrat, has predicted that McCarthy will get 32 votes for president.

"In other words, a majority of the delegation. Other observers, McCarthy-Humphrey contest think McCarthy could wind up with as many as 8 to 10."

Despite the stakes, both sides appear to be trying to campaign on what was described as a "gentlemanly level."

They want to avoid a rending clash like the battle two years ago over picking the party's gubernatorial nominee. That intraparty feud was blamed for capturing the state house in 1966.

Anderson says the reason for the soft campaign is this:

"When Sen. McCarthy runs for re-election in 1970, we will support him. We feel in November he will support the Johnson-Humphrey ticket. We want to conduct ourselves so this will happen."

CSI Entertains Boise In 'Game Of Year' Tonight

The game of the year, and the end of two-year intra-state rivalry, comes to the Twin Falls High School gymnasium at 8 p.m. today when the College of Southern Idaho Golden Eagles entertain the Boise College Broncos.

The tilt definitely brings together two of the strongest junior college teams in the inter-mountain and Pacific Northwest divisions, as Boise College, coached by Murray Satterfield, is running with a 21-2 record and the ICAC title already in hand while Coach Eddie Suton's Eagles are 10-4. CSI tripped the Broncos at Boise in December and that was the only loss for the Boise team until the Boise front got the job done 62-59 last Friday night.

Weber State Slams Gonzaga By 81-60

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — The rampaging Weber State Wildcats increased their Big Sky Conference basketball lead to games Monday night by slaming lowly Gonzaga, 81-60.

Noland Archibald and Dan Sparks accounted for 41 of Weber's points and 40 of the 61 Wildcats rebounds to make the difference.

With four league games left on each schedule, Weber increased its lead over second place Idaho. The Vandals, after dropping a pair to Weber over the weekend, continued their tailspin Monday night at Pocatello, losing to Idaho State, 84-87.

Weber jumped out to a 7-0 lead, increased it to 10, 40-30, by halftime and was never threatened in the second half. The victory gives the Wildcats a 9-2 league record and a 17-4 mark overall.

Archibald hit 23 points and pulled 21 off the boards. Justin Thigpen added 14 points and Monte Vernon contributed 10 to the Weber cause.

For Gonzaga, Joe McNair hit 17 points, followed by Mike McGinley with 12 and Pax Roche with 11.

Ten Million Fans Watched Pro Football

NEW YORK (AP) — Professional football in the National and American Leagues attracted a total of 10,951,652 fans in the past season for league games, exhibitions and post-season contests.

The NFL set a new attendance record of 5,941,380 for its regular season, an average of 53,048 paid at each of 112 games. The increase amounted to 11.3 per cent with capacity crowds at 65 of the 112 regular season games.

The AFL drew 2,285,697 for the regular season, an increase of 4.3 per cent and an average of 34,440 for each of 63 regular season games. In 1969, its first year of operation, the AFL drew only 224,158.

The two league offices released the totals Monday but did not break down the figures to individual teams.

Hackenschmidt Dies At Age 92

LONDON (AP) — George Hackenschmidt, "The Russian Lion" and one of the most famous figures in wrestling history, died Monday in his 92nd year.

He made wrestling history more than 30 years ago by winning two ferocious battles with Ahmed Madrali, "The Turkish Turk."

Hackenschmidt was world champion catch-as-catch-can heavyweight wrestler for 14 years and was called the strongest man in the world.

Hackenschmidt never smoked or drank. In his 80s, he still kept fit by jumping over the back of a chair 50 times at one go. He did that once a week.

Hackenschmidt died at a hospital in Dulwich suburb, where he had been since last November. Cause of death was not announced.

Chance Signs Pact With Twins

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota Twins President Calvin Griffiths landed another of his big fish in baseball contract negotiations — Monday when he announced that 20-game winning pitcher Dean Chance had agreed to terms.

Chance's salary was not made public but he is believed to have received between $55,000 and $60,000.

With Boise becoming a four-year school next fall, this will be the last regularly scheduled game between the two. Boise, with two wins last year, holds a 2-1 record for the brief series. There is a possibility that the two could collide again in the regional junior college tournament but that is several big wins away. CSI must get through a regional playoff here next week.

CSI enters the game with the same thin line it has been battling for the past three weeks. Fred Tronkle, trying to overcome mononucleosis, suited up for the Weber game at Oregon Saturday night but did not play. If he plays any Tuesday night it will be purely in spot situations, relieving Pleasant Vann, Tom Bush or Ron Adams.

Ples continues to lead the team in everything with Bush second. Coach Sutton was pleased with the Eagle showing Saturday night, noting it was one of the best team efforts for several games.

Eagle is led by jumping — Jack Wendell Hart — who staged a tremendous outside shooting exhibition here last year. Also returning is rebounder Bill Oney and G.E. Burke.

Coach Sutton believes that victory can come only with a maximum effort. "You can't single out rebounding, defense or teamwork on offense as being a key because they all have to be there against a team of Boise's class. They can do it all and we had better be able to do all three as well or a little better," he says.

Montana State Downs Seattle University

BOZEMAN (AP) — Montana State University, paced by the 26 point performance of junior forward Greg Harris, defeated Seattle University 80-70 Monday night in a non-conference basketball game in Bozeman.

The victory avenged an earlier season 82-82 loss to the Chieftains in Seattle.

The Bobcats are now 9-10 in regular season action.

The Chieftains jumped to an early lead and led by five points, 13-8 with 14 minutes left in the first half.

Montana State caught fire and came back to take a 20-17 lead midway through the first half. The Bobcats took advantage of a Seattle cold shooting spell and led at one point late in the first half, 32-23.

The halftime score had Montana State in front, 43-31.

The second half was fought on even terms for the first nine minutes until Harris took charge for the Bobcats and scored 16 of the next 22 points for Montana State.

A three-point play by Harris with 3:30 left in the game gave Montana State a 71-68 lead and their biggest point spread of the second half.

Harris Wins 24th Fight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gypsy Joe Harris, throwing savage right uppercuts and left hooks, easily outpointed Dick DiVeronica of Canastota, N.Y., Monday night for the unbeaten Philadelphia welterweight's 24th victory.

Harris won the unanimous 10-round decision of the two judges and referee. Judge Jack Stiles scored it 48-45, Ned Wilkinson 49-43 and referee Joe Sweeney 48-42. The Associated Press carded Harris a 48-42 victory.

The two league offices released the totals Monday but did not break down the figures to individual teams.

Kentucky, Duke Advance, Top Four Spots Unchanged In Poll

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer Kentucky and Duke registered the largest gains in The Associated Press' college basketball poll Monday while Marquette clinched Tennessee on the list of ranking teams.

There is a possibility that the two could collide again in the regional junior college tournament but that is several big wins away. CST must get through a regional playoff here next week.

There is a possibility that the two could collide again in the regional junior college tournament but that is several big wins away. CST must get through a regional playoff here next week.

CST enters the game with the same thin line it has been battling for the past three weeks. Fred Tronkle, trying to overcome mononucleosis, suited up for the Weber game at Oregon Saturday night but did not play. If he plays any Tuesday night it will be purely in spot situations, relieving Pleasant Vann, Tom Bush or Ron Adams.

Ples continues to lead the team in everything with Bush second. Coach Sutton was pleased with the Eagle showing Saturday night, noting it was one of the best team efforts for several games.

Eagle is led by jumping — Jack Wendell Hart — who staged a tremendous outside shooting exhibition here last year. Also returning is rebounder Bill Oney and G.E. Burke.

Coach Sutton believes that victory can come only with a maximum effort. "You can't single out rebounding, defense or teamwork on offense as being a key because they all have to be there against a team of Boise's class. They can do it all and we had better be able to do all three as well or a little better," he says.

With Boise becoming a four-year school next fall, this will be the last regularly scheduled game between the two. Boise, with two wins last year, holds a 2-1 record for the brief series.

Portugal Achieves Big Propaganda Victory

Feb. 20-21, 1968 Twin Falls Times-News A-1

By ISAAC M. FLORES
Associated Press Writer

BISSAU, Portuguese Guinea (AP) — Portugal appears to have achieved a major propaganda victory over black African guerrillas as a result of an official visit by President Americo Thomaz to Portuguese Guinea, and the Cape Verde Islands. Nationalist rebels in this tiny wedge of Portuguese territory on Africa's western bulge are expected to face an increasingly difficult time in attempting to convert half a million members of 30 different tribes to their cause.

The Thomaz trip was considered a success in reasserting Portugal's determination to continue the six-year struggle against what it calls "terrorism and banditry" supported by international communism throughout this steaming, river-crossed jungle country about the size of the Netherlands.

There had been speculation that Portugal was about to give up this small unproductive territory, but Thomaz' tour seems to have put an end to that.

The venture, carried out by order of Prime Minister Antonio Oliveira Salazar, also served to disprove contentions that the insurgents, led by Séguel-based Amílcar Cabral, control more than two-thirds of the colony. The Thomaz party traveled unchallenged into five villages of the interior in addition to his five-day stay in this chief port and capital city of 35,000. If ever there was a time for Cabral's rebels, forces of 4,000-5,000 to show its defiance, this was it.

But there were no incidents much to the relief of a large contingent of Portuguese armed forces and security police.

Despite what it calls "terrorism and banditry" unexpected lethargy at this time, however, Portuguese Guinea remains in the grip of guerrilla warfare and the possibility that the insurgents may eventually win out over some 25,000 top Portuguese troops and a native force of 10,000 is not being discounted.

Well-armed guerrillas bands travel at will over a large part of the country, particularly in the areas bordering Senegal and the Republic of Guinea. Black and white residents of this capi-

India Court Ruling Stirs Controversy

NEW DELHI (AP) — A special court decision awarding India 90 per cent of the Rann of Kutch wasteland stirred protests Monday among politicians who want the whole area for India.

Pakistan, awarded 10 per cent, seemed satisfied, as did the Indian government.

Pakistan and India went to war over the Arabian Sea coastal swamp-desert area in the spring of 1965. Later that year, they set up a three-man court to judge the issue and agreed to abide by its ruling.

Special interest in the sparsely populated Rann developed after reports circulated that oil might be found under its salt marshes and sand hills.

The Rann is in two sections—the Great Rann to the north, 220 miles long and 25 to 50 miles wide, and the Little Rann, 65 miles long and 35 miles wide.

India claimed the whole territory because its Hindu ruler joined it to India when the subcontinent was partitioned in 1947 to create the independent nations of India and Pakistan.

Pakistan claimed 3,500 square miles of the northern Rann because it had been controlled by the province of Sind, part of Moslem Pakistan.

The special court's neutral chairman and his Pakistani representative, gave the majority ruling on the Rann in Geneva Monday.

There were reports in Geneva that India and Pakistani officials would meet within two weeks to discuss how the decision could be carried out.

HOBO COSTUMES to be featured in the annual Washington School PTA Carnival Friday night are modeled by David Berry, Steve Weigt and Linda Jensen, from left. Special

Bar Association Adopts New Guidelines On Trial Reports

By TED SIMMONS
CHICAGO (AP) — The American Bar Association adopted new guidelines Monday to limit what the public will be told about pending criminal trials and arrests.

A plea by news executives for a year's delay while new studies were made was turned down by the association's House of Delegates by a vote of 176-68.

The controversial Reardon report was then adopted by voice vote.

The proposals now will go to an ethics committee which will blend them in during a revision of the ABA's Canons of Professional Ethics.

Though they are recommendations, they are likely to swiftly cut down what police will tell the press about criminal cases and will effectively limit what lawyers and judges say outside the courtroom.

Just before the vote, Chief Judge J. Edward Lombard of the U.S. Circuit Court in New York City told the delegates that if they accede to the plea for deferral, the news media would be back next year talking for still further studies.

Speaking for the report, William T. Gossett, ABA president-elect, said the guidelines "provide the mildest, least restrictive, most moderate steps possible to provide a fair trial."

Theodore Koop, a CBS vice president representing various news organizations, said he was "naturally disappointed by the decision."

I personally feel the battleground now shifts to the states and depends on whether the courts and legislatures adopt these restrictions," he said.

He said that Sigma Delta Chi, a professional journalism society and one of the leading opponents of the restrictions, will meet in Washington, D.C., March 1 to discuss the next steps.

D. Tenant Bryan, publisher of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch and News Leader, representing the American Newspaper Publishers Association, said, "It seems to me the House of Delegates attempted to amend the Constitution and I doubt that they have that authority."

The guidelines result from a study undertaken 39 months ago by a special ABA trial-press committee headed by Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts.

Various changes have been made since they were first made public in October 1964, but the broad outlines are fairly intact.

In the main, they would prevent the disclosure of information about prior criminal records, confessions or possible admissions of guilt, and the results of such tests as fingerprinting and lie detection.

The public would be told the name, age and family status of the accused, given a description of the arrest and the formal charge.

"They've had a detrimental effect on the whole attitude of people in this country and an even more disastrous effect insofar as Ho Chi Minh and the Communist world are concerned," Connally said. He did not elaborate.

Connally was in Atlanta to address a Jefferson-Jackson Day fund-raising dinner for the state Democratic party. He made his remarks at a news conference.

Although Connally declined to say whether he thinks Kennedy's Vietnam position is politically motivated, he did say, "Obviously, Senator Kennedy hasn't conducted himself in a manner designed to help President Johnson."

The Texas governor, a close friend of President Johnson, said he thinks the President is facing a tough presidential campaign this year, but added that he does not see any potential Republican candidate who can beat him.

Connally listed the three major things that he thinks will give the President the most trouble as civil disobedience, the Vietnam situation and the stability of the American dollar.

Although he acknowledged that the President is being blamed for civil disobedience and the nation's rising crime rate, Connally said people must acknowledge that law enforcement is a matter of local responsibility.

Speaker's Club Has Local Meet

Alice Jean Davis and Glenda Braga were speakers when the Magic Toastmasters Club met recently at the Caboose Room of the Depot Grill.

Mrs. Deanna Vollmer presented the beat topic, the education lesson, and served as toastmistress.

Mrs. Aldo Strong made a program and gave the inspiration message, Karen Christopher was topic mistress.

General evaluator was Ruth Hansen, Sandra Galy was a guest.

The next meeting will be March 7.

Annual Grade School Fund Drive Set Friday

Carnival time for the Washington School PTA Friday night will feature a 15-game midway, hot dog, and popcorn stands, a hobo bake shop and numerous other events.

The annual fund raising event of the PTA will follow a hobo theme this year.

To advertise the event, students of the school designed posters which are now on display at the school and in store windows. Winners in the contest for the best posters are Castle Hoyt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoyt, first; Kristine Stanger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Slanger, second, and third, Ted Harder, son of Mrs. Letha Harder, and Paulette Permann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Permann.

Judges for the contest were Rev. Keith Maxwell, Rev. Robert Harvey and Mrs. Evangel Hinkleman.

Chairman for the various committees of the carnival are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Berry, hot dog stands; Mr. and Mrs. David McClure, coordination, and Don Warr, publicity.

Other chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Haylan Wright, hobo bake shop; Dick Ryall, balloons, Mrs. Maryetta James, cake walk; Mrs. Joyce Smith, popcorn; Mrs. Don Kiehl, pop; Bud Key, parking; Mrs. Joyce Smith, primary division of the midway; Mrs. Lenore McNees and Mrs. Jewel Chandler, upper division of the midway; Mrs. Don Wike and Mrs. Dixie Phillips, dessert bar and Mrs. Virginia Jensen and Mrs. Joyce Halladay, ticket office.

The carnival will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Washington School and the public is invited to attend. There will be a white elephant sale conducted by teachers of the school and members of the sixth grade patrol will sell candy.

Cut Is Urged In Prices For Tourists

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House task force recommended Monday a broad range of cut rate prices for tourist services—including a 50 percent discount on domestic airline fares—to attract foreign visitors to the United States.

The Industry-Government Special Task Force on Travel set up by President Johnson in November recommended discounts on transatlantic air fares of 25 per cent, a 25 percent discount on domestic rail fares, and 10 per cent discounts on charter bus rates on trips involving 400 miles a day. These recommendations are now pending before regulatory agencies. The reduction would apply only to visitors from abroad.

The task force also recommended a substantial increase in the budget for the U.S. Travel Service, a waiver for visas for foreign tourists and business men and creation of a National Tourist Office to coordinate the promotion of foreign travel to the United States. This office would start with an annual budget of about $30 million in the next fiscal year.

The task force report is part of an effort by the Johnson administration to reduce the international dollar drain by about $3 billion this year. The balance-of-payments deficit last year was $3.57 billion.

Robert M. McGlynn, publisher of the Santa Fe New Mexican and task force chairman, said the recommended program does not negate the need for the travel tax which President Johnson has proposed on American citizens traveling outside the Western Hemisphere to reduce this country's balance-of-payments deficit.

The House Ways and Means Committee is holding hearings on that legislation.

McKinney said the travel industry estimates the potential impact of the report's proposals at about $150 million in benefits to the balance of payments during the first year.

Officers Elected By Theater Unit

BURLEY — Several area people were elected to offices at the Idaho Theater Association organizational meeting recently at the Ponderosa Inn.

Bud Schubert, Gooding, was elected third vice president; G. Harris, Burley, secretary-treasurer, and Roy Roper, Twin Falls, and Mrs. LaRea Dudley, Buile, both directors.

A directors' meeting has been set for March 5 in Boise.

T.E. Selects
Girls' State
Delegation

Five girls of the Twin Falls High School junior class were announced Monday as delegates to the 22nd annual session of Syringa Girls' State, following competition Sunday.

Selected from the 11 candidates were Cyndy Ronk, Kathy Lincoln, Barbara Barker, Sue Billington and Paula Hawks. Yolanda Nussbaum was named alternate delegate. Other candidates were Alice Marle Florence, Carol Stafford, Sheila O'Halloran, Mary Lou Watts and Kathy Henlinger.

Judging the event Sunday in the American Legion Hall were Dr. Bruce Harrison, Mrs. Sonya Herbert, Douglass Hilton, all of the College of Southern Idaho, and Bertie Mayer, Boise.

The girls will attend Girls' State June 9 through 15 at the Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa. Delegates who attended the session last year assisted with the Sunday candidate program. These include: Cathy Pond, Lynn Burkhardt, Kathy Ann Andersson, Marilyn Gee Olmstead; Jane Rose Anderson and Kris Harshbarger.

Mrs. W. W. Noble, chairman of the Girls' State Committee, was in charge of the Sunday program assisted by Mrs. L. James Koutnik and Mrs. Henry Wurtz.

Izetta McCoy, auxiliary president, introduced Mrs. Henry Powers, dean of girls at the Twin Falls high school, who discussed the Girls' State program and encouraged girls to enter competition.

In addition to the American Legion Auxiliary, clubs sponsoring individual delegates are the Rotary, Kiwanis, Business and Professional Women, Soroptimist and Altrusa clubs.

FILM SHOWN

DECLO — "The Miracle of the White Stallion," a motion picture about the famous Australian Lipizzan horses, was presented at the Declo recreation hall by the PTA. Proceeds will be donated to the high school scholarship fund. The film was also shown earlier to students of the grade school.
